Course Progress and Intervention Strategies

(How the College will help you if you are not progressing with your course)

UOW College assists students who are experiencing difficulties with their studies. Students who are not making satisfactory course progress will be referred to a Student Advisor, who will discuss the various support services available. International students are reminded that it is a visa condition to maintain satisfactory course progress.

Please refer to the Course Progress Policy, the Student Grievance Policy, and the Vocational Course Progress Procedure at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies for further details.

English Language Programs

Various services are provided to assist students to improve their English language skills. These include consultation with the class teacher, homework or in-class activities and referral to Learning Hub services. Students may be required to complete a learning contract.

Academic Programs (excluding UAP)

(i) Referral*

A student who does not meet minimum course requirements in a session will be placed on a course status of Referral in the next session. An intervention strategy will be implemented to assist the student to meet course progress requirements in the next session. Students on Referral must see a Student Advisor prior to enrolment in the next session, to discuss the factors contributing to unsatisfactory course progress. The Advisor will outline the support services available to assist the student and have the student sign a Referral Status Notification and Learning Contract outlining study conditions, including attending mentoring sessions every 2 weeks. Referral students who meet course progress requirements will return to an Active course status in the next session.

(ii) Probation*

When a student on Referral does not meet minimum course requirements, they will be placed on a course status of Probation in the next session. Students must ‘show cause’ to the relevant Head of Program, i.e. describe in writing how they plan to meet satisfactory course progress. Students on Probation must then meet with the relevant Head of Program prior to enrolment, to discuss the factors contributing to unsatisfactory course progress. The relevant Head of Program will outline the support services available to assist the student and have the student sign a Probation Status Notification and Learning Contract outlining study conditions, including attending weekly mentoring sessions. Probation students who meet course progress requirements will return to Referral status in the next session.

* Students placed on Referral or Probation may be obliged to take a reduced study load at the discretion of the relevant Head of Program.

(iii) Exclusion

Students on Probation who do not meet minimum course requirements will be suspended from their course of study at UOW College for a minimum of one session. International students will also be reported to the Department of Immigration for failing to achieve satisfactory course progress. Students placed on a course status of Exclusion will be notified in writing and informed of their appeal rights. After the period of exclusion, a student may apply to the College for re-admission. Students will be required to ‘show cause’ before being permitted to re-enrol.
Vocational Qualifications

Student progress will be monitored in accordance with the UOW College Vocational Course Progress Policy to ensure that students who do not meet minimum course progress requirements are identified and placed on a formal intervention strategy the following study period (session).

Unsatisfactory progress (ie, not meeting the minimum course progress requirement) is defined as not successfully completing or demonstrating competency in at least 50% of the course requirements in that study period. Students must achieve a grade of Competent (C) in at least 50% of the units attempted in the study period to meet minimum course progress requirements.

(i) Probation

A student who does not meet minimum course requirements in a study period will be placed on a course status of Probation in the next session. An intervention strategy will be implemented to assist the student to meet course progress requirements in the next session. Students on Probation must see a Student Advisor (or delegated authority) to discuss the factors contributing to unsatisfactory course progress, outline the support services available to assist the student, and sign a Probation Status Notification form outlining study conditions, including attending mentoring sessions every 2 weeks. Students placed on Probation may also be obliged to take a reduced study load, at the discretion of the relevant Head of Program. Probation students who meet course progress requirements in that session will return to an Active course status in the next session.

(ii) Exclusion

Students on Probation who do not meet minimum course progress requirements will be placed on a course status of Exclusion for the next session, ie, they will be suspended from their course of study at UOW College for a minimum of one session. International students on Exclusion status will also be reported to the Department of Immigration for failing to achieve satisfactory course progress for the second consecutive session. Students placed on a course status of Exclusion will be notified in writing and informed of their appeal rights. After the period of exclusion, a student may apply to the College for re-admission. Students will be required to ‘show cause’ before being permitted to re-enrol.

Further details regarding vocational course progress are provided in The Vocational Course Progress Policy and the Vocational Course Progress Procedure at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

Attendance and Medical Certificates

UOW College monitors student attendance for all programs throughout each study period. UOW College expects students to attend their scheduled classes unless there is an acceptable reason. In accordance with the National Code and Student Visa conditions, international students (excluding Higher Education Diploma and vocational students) must maintain a minimum rate of 80% attendance.

What should I do if I miss class?

If you are sick, you should present your medical certificate to a staff member at the College’s Customer Service desk who will sight your certificate & note the details on your record and return the certificate to you. The medical certificate must be submitted within three working days of returning to College after the period of illness and must be issued by a registered medical practitioner and cover the period of absence. Submissions and medical certificates may be taken into account at the end of the session when reviewing attendance rates and/or course progress. You may be asked to provide your medical certificates in some cases such as lodgement of an appeal for unsatisfactory attendance.

How is attendance calculated?

Attendance calculations for all students will be based on actual time in class. Medical certificates or other documentation provided to support absences will be considered when deciding whether or not to report international students whose final attendance is in the range 70-80%.

Students’ attendance is marked for each hour of class. For example, with a 1 hour class, attendance is calculated as follows:

- A student is absent 1-15 minutes = 1 hour entered for actual attendance
- A student is absent 16-45 minutes = 0.5 hours entered for actual attendance
- A student is absent 46-60 minutes = 0 hours entered for actual attendance

Students with attendance below 85% (excluding Diploma students) will be sent written correspondence (via SOLS mail, email and/or post) and/or text messages advising them of their poor attendance and requesting them to make an appointment to see a Student Advisor to explain their absence.

Further details regarding attendance are provided in the Attendance Policy for further details.

Student Visa holders under the age of 18 must also maintain adequate arrangements for accommodation, support and general welfare and must not change arrangements without College approval. Additional discretionary visa conditions may also apply. Please refer to your visa for further details.

Reporting students to the Department of Immigration

• transferring to another stream, course or educational institution;
• taking a Leave of Absence, i.e., a break during your course;
• finishing their course early;
• deferring or withdrawing from their course; or

Students may need to provide supporting documentation (evidence) of extenuating circumstances before leave or deferral can be considered for any length of time.

Refunds and Funds Transfer

Students seeking a refund must complete and return the Refund Form available at: http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/content/groups/public/@web/@uowc/documents/doc/uow218631.pdf. Students will be informed at orientation of the census date and a reminder will be sent to students via SOLS mail as census date approaches. Students can only defer or withdraw from their course via a Student Advisor. You can make an appointment to see a Student Advisor at the College Customer Service desk in Building 30, by phoning 4252 8804 or via email at college-advisor@uow.edu.au. Alternatively, you may lodge your request to withdraw or defer via email to the Student Advisor who will process the request on your behalf.

Students who do not apply to defer or withdraw from their course by the census date via a Student Advisor will incur the full UOW College tuition fees for the session.

Refer to the Study Assist site at: http://studyassist.gov.au/ for further information on withdrawals due to special circumstances after census.

Statement of VET Tuition Assurance

Under the provisions of Schedule 1A of the Higher Education Support Act 2003 (the Act) and Chapter 3 of the VET Guidelines, UOW College must comply with the VET Tuition Assurance requirements. This is to protect students in the event that UOW College ceases to provide a VET course of study in which a VET student is enrolled. Information regarding the VET Tuition Assurance scheme can be found here: http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/content/groups/public/@web/@uowc/documents/doc/uow174046.pdf

Credit for Prior Learning (Recognition of Prior Learning and Credit Transfer)

Students may apply for credit for prior learning, regardless of where that learning was achieved or whether that learning was achieved through formal, informal or non-formal learning. Credit for prior learning only applies to students studying award (AQF) courses. These courses are the Higher Education Diplomas and all Vocational qualifications. Applications must be made using the Application For Credit For Prior Learning Form and must be received by the end of Week 1 of the course. Vocational program students accessing NSW Government Smart and Skilled funding must lodge applications for credit for prior learning prior to offer issue.

Vocational Courses only: A fee of $500 per unit of competency is charged for applications for credit for informal or non-formal learning. Application processing will not commence until fee payment and the submission of all evidence. Application outcomes will be advised in writing within ten working days. There is no fee for credit transfer (credit for formal learning) applications.

Academic Consideration

Academic Consideration is a process intended to minimise the impact of serious circumstances beyond a student’s control which prevent a student from completing an assessment task by the due date, or from sitting an exam on the scheduled date. Consideration may be granted on medical and/or compassionate grounds or other extenuating circumstances. Requests must be supported by relevant and appropriate documentation. Academic Consideration cannot compensate for every problem, illness or event and would not normally be granted for clashes with recreational activities, work or family commitments, travel arrangements, losing work due to computer problems or minor sickness, eg, colds or headaches. Students with a permanent or long term disability who may require reasonable adjustments are advised to contact their Head of Program or a Student Advisor.

The College Academic Consideration Policy is available on the UOW College website at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies and contains further information about the Academic Consideration process. How do I apply for Academic Consideration?

Academic Consideration requests can be made via SOLS. Requests should be made:
• in advance of or on the due date of an assessment task
• in advance of or on the scheduled date for an in-class test or final examination
• no later than three working days after the scheduled date for an assessment task or an in-class test or final examination.

In exceptional circumstances, the timing requirements may be exempted by the relevant Head of Program. Students cannot apply for Academic Consideration once final grades have been declared for that subject or after graduation.

UOW College and College Students’ Responsibilities

Assessment and Exam Regulations

The UOW College Assessment Policy can be viewed in detail at: http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

In addition to the Assessment Policy, the Assessment and Examinations Guidelines for Students outlines and formalises for students what is, and what is not, acceptable conduct related to assessments and examinations, in addition to information regarding the release of student examination results.

The UOW College Assessment and Examination Guidelines for Students can be viewed in detail at: http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

Supplementary Exams – Academic students only

Students are advised not to make travel arrangements until after the relevant supplementary final exam period. Any Academic Consideration requests for missing a final exam in the normal Weeks 13 and 14 final exam period based on travel plans, will not be approved.

Students will be given at least 24 hours’ notice via SOLS of the arrangement to sit an approved supplementary final exam. If Academic Consideration is applied for, it is the student’s responsibility to check their SOLS for details of arrangements that are made for them. To enable quick processing of Academic Consideration requests for missing an exam in Weeks 13 and 14, requests should be submitted online on the same day of the missed exams (and remember that documentation must be brought to the College Customer Service desk supporting the request – until this happens, the request cannot be finalised by the Subject Coordinator).

Diploma students should note that for College Diploma subjects that have equivalent subjects at UOW:

1. Technical Fail (TF) TF grades are allocated when a student obtains an overall final Composite mark of 50% or greater for the subject but fails to meet one or more of the requirements as stipulated in the Subject outline. For example, the final exam has a minimum performance requirement of 50%.

2. A student who achieves a mark of 48-49% may be eligible for a grade of WS and a supplementary exam to determine their final grade for the Subject (subject to the condition below). In this case, the maximum grade attainable for the subject will be a PS (Pass Supplementary) with a mark of 50%.

3. The opportunity to complete a supplementary assessment task is not automatic. A student whose overall performance results in a TF will only be granted a supplementary assessment task (e.g. a supplementary exam or a supplementary assignment) once approved by the Examiners Committee.

4. A student who has successfully applied for academic consideration will receive a grade of WD (Withheld Deferred) and will be allowed to complete a supplementary assessment.

For subjects running on UOW session dates, supplementary exams will be scheduled during the UOW supplementary exam period. Supplementary final exam periods for all courses delivered on UOW dates are on the UOW website at http://www.uow.edu.au/student/dates/UOW187066.html

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism
Plagiarism occurs when a student uses someone else’s work or ideas and presents it as his/her own without giving the owner proper credit or not using the acceptable methods of acknowledgment. Evidence and ideas taken from references and sources used to prepare assignments must be acknowledged in both written assignments and oral presentations. Plagiarism is a serious form of cheating and severe penalties can be imposed, including a mark of zero and disciplinary action.

To avoid plagiarism, students should use their own words and expression when explaining ideas and concepts and acknowledge all references and sources used in essays and assignments. To achieve this, students need to listen in class, read the accompanying references, write summaries and paraphrases of the readings, develop their own understanding of the issues and present their own ideas. References and quotations can then be used to support students’ own ideas and arguments. In addition, a bibliography or references cited in the assignment needs to be included at the end of essays and assignments to allow the marker to check the accuracy of materials used.

A general referencing guide can be found on the UOW library website. Follow the links on the left hand side - go to ‘Help’ and the ‘Using the library’ and ‘Referencing and Citing’.

Cheating

Cheating is a serious form of academic misconduct and intellectual dishonesty. Cheating may include: taking notes into an exam; using electronic devices to source information during an exam; reading and copying another student’s work; allowing another student to copy information in an exam; communicating with another person during an exam; and, using false identification by substituting another person for the student in an exam.

Where there is evidence of cheating in a test or examination, the exam supervisor must take from the student all written material and other evidence of cheating. The student will complete the test or examination with a new examination paper and in a new booklet but in the original time limit for the exam. The exam supervisor will write a note about the cheating incident on the student’s exam paper. At the completion of the test or examination, the student’s work will be collected, along with the written material and other evidence of cheating, and will be kept separately from other exam papers. If there is sufficient evidence that academic misconduct may have occurred, the student will be requested to meet with the relevant Head of Program to determine the nature of the incident and whether there should be an investigation of alleged academic misconduct.

Further details about Academic Integrity and how it is handled at UOW College are available in the UOW College Student Academic Integrity Policy on the UOW College and all allegations of academic misconduct will be investigated in accordance with the UOW College Procedure for Managing Alleged Academic Misconduct by a Student. These documents can be found at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

Feedback, Compliments and Complaints

Students who wish to give a compliment, make a suggestion, provide feedback or make a complaint, can do so using the College website Feedback page which is available at: http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/about/haveyoursay/index.htm. Further information can also be found in the Feedback Policy and Feedback Procedure at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

For more serious academic or non-academic grievances, students are advised to consult the Student Grievance Policy and seek assistance from a Student Advisor. This policy can be found at http://www.uowcollege.edu.au/policies.

UOW College also actively and regularly seeks student feedback by conducting surveys. Student feedback is valuable as it enables us to improve the delivery and content of our courses, student services, activities and facilities and assists with our continuous improvement processes.
